SON OF PRESIDENT DIES FROM BLOOD POISONING

Washington — Death once more cast its shadow today over the White House, claiming Calvin Coolidge, Jr., the 16-year-old son of the president.

A courageous struggle of five days, that stood off the final claim of acute blood poisoning to the utmost, ended last night. The younger son of the president died at the Walter Reed hospital, where he had lain in the desperate fight for life since he was removed there last Saturday that every resource of medical science might be invoked to save his life.

Washed in strength by the raging fever of septic poisoning, from an almost unnoticed blister which developed on his foot while playing tennis a week ago, the youth fought a futile battle throughout yesterday. Lying ground steadily, he yet amazed physicians by the tenacity with which he clung to the slender thread of life and his fortitude under the suffering of complications that attended the spread of the venereal disease. He collapsed early in the night and death occurred at 10:20 o'clock.

Kept Long Vigil

The president and Mrs. Coolidge kept the long vigil at his bedside. Undisturbed save for the occasional hurried return to the White House yesterday and Sunday.

Plainly showing their order of sorrow, the mother and father left the hospital at once.

Mrs. Coolidge held the president's arm as they walked hurriedly to the automobile. As the car swung along the route toward the executive mansion they were joined by another car which contained C. Bascom Sloop, the president's secretary.

At the white house there was only the respect of withdrawal to pay as the doors were opened to receive the president and Mrs. Coolidge. The mother was joined by the entered by Mrs. Frank W. Stearns, a close friend of the family and a white house guest with her husband. The president and Mrs. Coolidge, the elder son, who had been borne up bravely, went at once to their rooms and at midnight the White House was entirely darkened. John, the youngest son, who had been spared the ordeal of the last hours at the bedside of the brother who had been a constant companion, was in his room and remained upstairs.

MRS. COOLIDGE AND CALVIN, JR.

Courage Defied Death

Those who watched the struggle of a 16-year-old boy against the terrible odds agreed that only a fortitude of will and character, unequal at any age had kept him alive so long. The long agony, which resulted from the blister on Monday was so little thought of that he had appeared that night with his father at the bedside of the mother and father, officials where he saw much to smile and jest with his elder brother.

By Wednesday the onslaught of the infection had started, and within a few days the boy's condition, with his mother at his side, Calvin Jr., was hustled to Walter Reed hospital, on the operation which it was hoped might reduce to a new focus the bacteria which were building in the tissues of his leg. For the reception of temporary quarters for the president and Mrs. Coolidge, that they might remain constantly near him, the entire upper wing of the hospital was cleared.

Heart Finally Fails

The operation was performed with great anesthesia and was successful in that it established a drain for accumulating septic matter. Although the youth showed a slight improvement after it, he was said by his physicians to have really been sustained in his repeated rally from an almost hopeless progress of the disease by his determination to live and his refusal to yield to pain. Intense fever and a failing heart marked the course of his struggle.

It was shortly after 6 p. m. yesterday that the collapse came and he lapsed into a comatose state. At that time a military guard had been thrown around the quarters assigned for the boy and through this the only message news obtained was that brought out in frequent intervals by E. T. Clark, the president's personal secretary. With oxygen and restorative, attendants were holding the glow of the spark of life in his wasted frame, but with no hope. At 8 o'clock it was announced that he was dying, but it was not until two hours and a half later that the physicians pronounced the end.

Bravery Is Tested

The boy's courage met the test

many times when it was required that he submit to pain in the preparation of blood tests, the use of hypodermics and finally the removal of the taking of nourishment possible when the accumulation of pus began. It was only necessary, it was said, to tell him when and where the hurt would come and it would be suffered without complaint or protest.

Messages of sympathy were received by the president and Mrs. Coolidge today from persons of all lands and all walks of life. The tragic death of their son had touched the heart not only of friends but of many others who wished to convey their sympathy and condolences. Calvin Coolidge, Jr., according to White House officials, is the first son of a president to die while his father held that office since Tad Lincoln died in his father's arms in the White House near the close of the Civil War. So sudden death, there has been no instance of a president's daughter dying during his occupancy of the White House.

The death of the son of President Coolidge marks the third successive administration in which the family, occupying the White House has been decimated either by death or critical illness.

The first wife of the former President Wilson died in the White House, and later Mr. Wilson suffered there a breakdown which left him an invalid until death.

Services for President Harding were held in the White House after the sudden death in San Francisco, and previously Mrs. Harding had suffered a critical illness there.

Hearing Up Well

At the White House this morning, Frank W. Stearns, friend of the Coolidge family, who has been with them throughout the ordeal, said President Coolidge was bearing up under his breakdown on the part of Mrs. Coolidge.

MRS. COCHRANE CAN SUE, SAYS JUDGE GRIMM

Another legal barrier to trial of the $15,000 suit of Mrs. Claude E. Cochrane against T. S. Willis, Saxo brothers and others, as the result of the death of her husband, Sept. 18, 1922, when the Saxo theater here collapsed, was removed by Judge Grimm in Circuit Court here Monday, when he overruled the demurrer of one of the defendants, the T. S. Henneke Co., Milwaukee. Judge Grimm held the project for 1925 and 1927, although no definite projects were settled upon.

COMMISSION SNUBS BLAINE

Madison—The state highway commission virtually ignored Governor Blaine's last communication on highway matters when it adjourned today without answering the letter. The governor's communication was read and the commission, on motion of Dean Turney, of the state university, voted to continue its present activities.

The commission directed highway engineers to begin surveying for a federal project for 1925-1926 and 1927, although no definite projects were settled upon.

SOCIALISTS BACK LA FOLLETTE NAME FOR PRESIDENCY

CONVENTION CONCURS IN CONFERENCE ACTION AT CLEVELAND.

PLATFORM ISSUE Party May Build Its Own Structure of Planks as Fight Basis.

Cleveland—Adjustment of the affairs of the socialist party of America to the task, for the first time in its history, of a national election campaign, was the subject here today of the party's 1924 national convention.

This condition resulted from the conferring last night with the conference for progressive political action in endorsing Senator Robert M. La Follette as a presidential candidate on his own platform.

It was indicated, however, that while this action precluded nomination by the socialist party, it did not prevent it from adopting a platform, just as the conference for political action voted itself a structure of economic planks, after endorsing La Follette on the "Wisconsin plan" pronouncement.

A statement of principles was submitted by that committee yesterday, but it was explained that this was only a preliminary report. There was nothing in it, either, to arouse discussion in the convention, as it proved to be a re-statement, in more concise form, of the principles used as a basis for party propaganda for several years.

Selection of a national executive committee of seven members and many alternates also was on the program.

The action of the La Follette candidacy was almost a foregone conclusion, but a delegate who wished had been allowed to express as much of his views as he could crowd into five minutes. All expressed the feeling that it was recommended the action, pointing out that the party, in accordance with its traditions, had assisted in organizing the conference which met here last week.

DEATH OF BOY BRINGS GRIEF TO NATION

Washington—The White House, scene of many of the nation's sorrows, again became a house of mourning today when the 16-year-old son of the president died. The death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., President Coolidge's 16-year-old son, was announced here today.

President Lincoln's time had such a youthful member of a president's family been called by death, and never under more tragic circumstances. From the time young Calvin died at Walter Reed hospital, at Washington, and was taken to his home in Northampton, Mass., where he was buried last night, at Walter Reed Army hospital, all through the forenoon and afternoon there came messages to the president and Mrs. Coolidge from friends and acquaintances in their first grief, and tributes to the boy who had always been a light in the lives of his parents.

Half Mute Plaid

A flag at half staff on the White House and a white crepe token of mourning on the door told of the bereavement within. Around the entrance, where the president's car had been, stood a line of soldiers, and in front of the presidential yacht, Mayflower stood guard. Floral tributes in great numbers were being sent to the family.

President Coolidge bore up well with his grief, and friends of the family said there had been no sign of a breakdown by Mrs. Coolidge, who had been with her husband through the ordeal. Mrs. Coolidge was bearing up under his breakdown on the part of Mrs. Coolidge.

DENNIS SMITH GETS SETBACK BEFORE COURT

Jefferson—Sheriff Dennis P. Smith's fight to compel Jefferson county to pay him his salary for the last year, ended today with a setback. Judge Grimm in Circuit Court here today, after a hearing, called for under his contract, despite specific orders that this should not be done until he pays $250 advanced for gasoline, received a writ of habeas corpus, and a decision in circuit court overruling his demurrer to the answer of the county to his application for a writ of mandamus, or mandamus to compel William A. Mueck, county clerk, to issue a check for the money due him as salary for the last year.

The sheriff seeks a permanent writ of mandamus to compel William A. Mueck, county clerk, to issue a check for the money due him as salary for the last year.

The court, in effect, holds that mandamus, under the express orders of the board for Mr. Mueck not to issue such a check, is not the proper procedure, such as it would be where the payment was authorized and then withheld by the county clerk.

The sheriff may bring an action against the county to recover his salary, but he will be decided upon the merits. Judge Grimm holds. He rules that the treasurer and county board chairman are not properly parties to the action.

Judge Grimm rules that the county, in its cross bill for $250, has a complete defense to the demand, and gives Smith 20 days to withdraw the demand and reply to the return.

BRITISH FLEET WELCOMED

San Francisco—Seven British naval craft on their way to the United States, headed by the Hood, were welcomed here today.

Tornado Cloud Dips Near Earth; Sails Away Safely

During the intermittent rains west of and north of Evansville last Monday afternoon, many persons observed a tornado forming, a nailing the edge of the dark copper-colored storm clouds. Kansas and Oklahoma twisters, who know from experience declared the formation to be a real twister and were much concerned.

A check Tuesday morning showed no severe damage caused by storms or wind in southern Wisconsin, so evidently the storm either was not severe or did not dip to the surface of the earth.

Near the edge of the storm clouds was a funnel-like formation, tapering down from the clouds and rolling rapidly as it dipped towards the earth. From a narrow strip of black lines, the formation grew in size until, about half way down to the earth, there was a large circle of white clouds, resembling a photograph horn, small and down. From then on to the earth there was only a misty looking formation. The formation dipped and then receded back to the storm cloud to dip again, and then it was about half an hour disappeared in a mist.

"If that cloud comes near Evansville, look for a storm cell," warned one Kansas newspaperman on the banker's farm-tour.

250 Killed in Brazilian Revolt

In his message, President Bonardreau declared the government forces were equipped to crush the uprising and defend the solidarity of the constitution.

ARMY WORMS NEAR FOOTVILLE FARMS

Cause Damage to Alfalfa Put Into Barn Loft on Several Farms.

Army worms have reached Footville in the western half of Rock county and the situation is growing more serious.

Alfalfa, timothy and corn fields are being attacked by the invading worms and great damage caused. A program is being carried on the farm of Gottlieb Gottler, two miles west of Footville, who harvested a four acre field of good alfalfa. In cutting the hay there was nothing to indicate the field was infested with worms. Putting the hay into the mow, Gottler felt rather secure. The following morning he went to the lot and was dumbfounded to find a large percentage of the alfalfa ruined. The tender shoots of the legume had been eaten and hundreds of white caterpillars, the army worms, were seen on the alfalfa.

On Tuesday the worms were in the timothy fields near the Gottler farm and thick on several fields of timothy.

Experts declare that it is a rare case where the worms will consume plants in a hay mow but such damage is possible. A number of farmers in the southwestern section, as the worms move always work at night and early evening, they are often not aware of them until they are made during the day time. They "dig-in" like a "doughboy" during the day and emerge to attack the fields at night and evening.

When the poison bran is used care must be exercised to keep poultry and livestock away from the fields. An appeal will be made to the authorities at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture for aid in stopping the invasion unless the situation is controlled locally.

FOUR JANESVILLE YOUTHS ARRESTED IN HOOSIER STATE

AUTO THEFT SUSPECTS ARE TAKEN BY AUTHORITIES.

HELD FOR POLICE Took Two Cars, Belief of Officers; Were Armed With Revolvers.

Four Janesville youths, alleged car thieves, bandits and child gunmen, were arrested early Monday morning at Dyer, Ind., near Crown Point, charged with the theft of a Chevrolet sedan from Waverly Beach in Beloit Friday night. They are:

Phillip Yuenest, Harold Gosa, Donald Sletford, and Donald Sletford.

The four boys were arrested by the sheriff of Lake county, Indiana, upon the request of local police. Warnings charging the boys with the theft of the Illinois coupe Friday night have been sworn out by Beloit police. They will be returned to Beloit for hearing within the next few days.

Armed with revolvers, the child gunmen left Janesville Sunday afternoon. They had the sedan near the Three Mile creek under the Evansville road over Saturday, spending the night at their homes.

Local police are inclined to doubt the theory that the boys abandoned the Chevrolet, stole a Hudson touring car, and passed through Elkhorn Sunday night, firing at the police when challenged.

It is believed that the boys drove directly to the territory about Crown Point, Ind., where they were taken custody shortly by the local police resulted in the arrest.

First Wavil Boys.

The boys range in age from about 16 to 18 and are residents of the first ward. Young Gosa was recently arrested by the police for throwing lighted firecrackers into a street car on North Washington street. He was discharged by Judge J. L. Mayfield in municipal court Saturday after he had promised "to be good."

STUDY DAIRY COW IN WISCONSIN TOUR

Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma Men Visit Rock County Farms.

Rock county was host to 135 bankers, editors, farmers, county agents and business men from Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, who will spend four days in the Badger state to study Wisconsin's system of diversified agriculture. Arriving in Beloit early Monday morning aboard a special train the visitors were taken on a 100 mile tour through points of agricultural interest and left imbued with the "Rock County First" idea.

There were 38 bankers in the party, financial men interested in promoting the agricultural welfare of their own communities through the medium of the dairy cow and dairy market. The visitors wanted to know how Wisconsin farmers were making money while the great majority of those in their own communities were renewing loans and seeking new credits. Diversification of farm interests was the answer they found with the dairy cow as the key-stone to successful farming.

Study Dairy Cow. But the visitors also found out that successful dairymen must something more than merely coming into Wisconsin and buying dairy cows. They must appreciate first that there must be established a proper market for the creation of a growing demand for dairy products, the careful selection of stock above the average and growing of feeds suited to obtaining high production in dairy animals along with other lines of popular farm diversification, poultry, hogs, bees and good crops. Bankers were told that their successful dairymen are not content with successful dairymen; that farmers be furnished with sufficient funds to purchase cattle that have known production ability and not counterfeit dairy cows which in many instances, have been imported into the grain states for the reason they were "cheap."

Not only were the visitors shown dairy cows that produce a profit but were shown Wisconsin beef cattle that were as good or better than produced in their own states—great meat producing sections, for the Wisconsin idea on livestock has been quality. Those from Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma carried with them the pride of state, but they

FARM MEETINGS

Wednesday, July 10—Rock county dairy tour.
Tuesday, July 22—County Agents' Tour, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. in Wisconsin meeting in Elkhorn.
July 23—State meeting of poultry breeders, Madison.
July 30—Aug. 2—Rock County Fair, Janesville.
August 25-30—Wisconsin State Fair.
Sept. 27-Oct. 4—National Dairy Show, Milwaukee.

were concerned on how Wisconsin showed its dairy balance. They found out it was steadily plucking, not speculation, that has carried the Wisconsin farmer on the crest of the tide during a storm of agricultural depression.

Visit Dairy Farms. From Beloit the visitors were taken in motor cars furnished by Rock county men to the Guernsey dairy farm of W. J. Dougan and learned how a minister of the gospel, who because of impaired hearing, started farming, and in 18 years established a farm acknowledged to be the leading practical dairy farm in Wisconsin.

"High grade Guernseys breed and developed for production over a period of years, culled by cow testing records, development of a stable and safe market for quality milk, along with good crops, fine swine and sound sense," was the answer.

"Life as well as a living for the farmer and his help," declared Mr. Dougan.

Then to the Rockwell and Kettler dairy farm, west of Beloit, where they saw a herd of grade Holsteins, the champion grade herd in America, where breeding and testing had developed a profitable herd so that 23 cows returned more than $100 profit per cow above feed costs a year for two years. The merit of the Brown Swiss cow for the farmer was demonstrated at the farm of Mrs. L. H. Bell.

Rock county business men were hosts to the delegation at the dinner served at noon in the Janesville Y. M. C. A. Short speeches were made by J. A. Craig, Janesville, Reid Murray, secretary of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' association and J. Frank Smith, Kansas City.

During the afternoon there was a trip to the Rock county farm for inspecting the Holstein herd, and buildings, the Milking Shorthorn herd of the Whittier-Little estate and thence to Evansville to the Herford farm of J. C. Robinson.

At the Robinson farm the Wisconsin men were "talking Kansas language." In the white faces, but even the Kansas men admitted they had few such herds as that of the Robinsons. Dane county representatives met the visitors at the Robinson farm and took them to Madison, stopping at a Swiss cheese factory near Verona and then to Madison for an inspection of the College of Agriculture and a banquet. J. L. Torrey, chairman for the American Shorthorn association and Prof. J. E. Fuller, Madison, lectured at the Little and Robinson farms.

CITY MAY ISSUE MORTGAGE BONDS

Circulation of $135,000 in Securities Would Save $18,000, Says Cunningham.

Mortgage certificates totaling $135,000, secured by the city water works, will be paid off by a general issue of city bonds, if the suggestion of City Attorney Roger Cunningham and City Manager Henry Tuxier is approved by the city council.

The certificates issued by the city in 1919 and 1920 will be due in August of this year. The 1919 issue amounted to $75,000 and the 1920 certificates to $60,000.

By issuing the new general bonds, in the opinion of Mr. Cunningham, the city would save approximately $18,000 over a 20-year period, which could be applied upon the principal.

Some legal difficulties in issuing the bonds must be incurred, but it is believed that inasmuch as the indebtedness of the city is far below the maximum quota, there will be little trouble. It is planned to advertise the issue and dispose of the bonds through large financial houses. The interest rate to be secured is indefinite.

The city council will meet at 5 p. m. Thursday to hear a further report from Mr. Cunningham. At that time it is expected some action will be taken upon the matter.

ASK FREEDOM OF WORSHIP

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Decatur, Ga. — The Norwegian Lutheran church of America passed resolutions calling for freedom of religious worship and absolute separation of church and state.

SIX PAIR FREED OF WEDDED WOES

Unfaithfulness, Cruelty, Non-Support Advanced—Five Janesville Couples.

Six couples, five from Janesville, sought relief from marital troubles in the Rock county circuit court Monday afternoon and were granted absolute decrees of divorce by Judge George Grimm.

Those from Janesville, obtaining divorces were Bonnie Quigley Gelfer from Harry L. Gelfer; Harriet Plaherty from Edwin Plaherty; Ray V. Jacobs from Pearl Irene Jacobs; Leonard C. Lenz from Julia Lenz; Jella M. Blay from Dr. Harry R. Blay. The other divorce was granted to Helen Doner, Beloit, from William Bower, present address unknown.

Tried to Catch Her.

Charges of unfaithfulness were advanced in their plea, by Mr. Jacobs, Mr. Lenz and Mrs. Blay, all of Janesville. Mr. Jacobs, local garage proprietor, said he "accused his wife of running with other men, who left a note and beat it."

"Like all the rest of them I tried to catch her in the act but couldn't," said Mr. Jacobs, in telling the court of his wife's conduct. He testified that she had advised him to get a divorce. The court confirmed the final settlement, giving the wife $100, a bedroom set and $50 a month for her support and that of their daughter, Eleanor, who was placed in her care. The other child was given to the father. The couple was married at Rockford Sept. 3, 1914.

Another Woman.

"Another woman in the case" started the trouble that blasted the married life of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Blay after seven months trial, the wife declared on the witness stand Monday. She testified Dr. Blay upon one occasion when he learned she had been to another physician, grabbed her by the throat, struck her in the mouth with his fist and broke her plate teeth.

Dr. R. R. Powell and Dr. W. A. Munn were called to support the plaintiff's charges. Dr. Blay testified relative to his property, not contesting the divorce. He agreed to a settlement of $50 a month, and to pay $250 owing to Mrs. Blay, a dentist bill of $125 and $75 attorney's fees. B. H. Ryan represented Mrs. Blay and John Gross, appeared for the defendant.

They were married at Crown Point, Ind., July 15, 1922.

Three others.

Mrs. Bessie Geiger obtained a divorce from Harry L. Geiger, on a charge of cruelty and obtained the custody of the children. They were married at Dubuque, Ia., July 7, 1906.

Separated since last October, Harriet Plaherty charged her husband, Edwin, with non-support and adultery. Grimm released her from marital ties. They were married at Rockford Oct. 3, 1922.

Combined charges of cruelty and non-support were advanced by Helen Doner, Beloit, in obtaining a permanent separation from William Bower. They were married at Broadhead, Jan. 7, 1898, and have three children.

QUIZ FOR INSPECTORS.

Madison—Examinations for four deputy state oil inspectors will be conducted in the near future, to fill vacancies recently occurred, according to T. J. Cunningham. Temporary appointments have been made to the positions, which will be filled permanently under civil service examinations.

MILTON AVENUE MADE DETOUR BY THE STATE
 With Milton Avenue made a scene from "no man's" land with innumerable trenches for water and sewer mains and other holes not conducive to comfortable travel, the highway department has taken cognizance of the situation by pinning Highway 26 on a detour out Milwaukee avenue and over to Milton again on Garfield and St. Mary's avenue.

Especially slow travel is a necessity this week in the block between Glen and Walker streets on Milton avenue, as tractors have been dug on both sides of the street to the curb, allowing only one way traffic in the streets. Marvellous dexterity is required upon the part of automobile drivers to steer safely along this highway.

TRACTION COMPANY WILL PAY PAVING

Sparks Promises Concrete Cost Between Milton Avenue Tracks Will Be Met.

Two communications, from J. C. Sparks, vice president of the Janesville Traction company, read at Monday night's meeting of the city council, state the cost of paving between the tracks on Milton avenue was satisfactory to the company and that the city would be reimbursed for the excess cost of paving. The traction company said it will also pay $1,000 towards the cost of a storm sewer upon the same street.

With the completion of the paving program upon Washington and Pleasant streets as per contract, the J. C. Sparks & Son company, Racine, will receive payment amounting to $28,240.57.

The council also passed a resolution urging the citizens of Janesville to vote for the constitutional amendment to the constitution of Wisconsin. The bill has been passed by the last two legislatures and provides for greater municipal powers. It will be submitted to the people in November. The disposition of houses belonging to the city near the high school was left in the hands of Mr. Traxler. It is believed they will be sold in the near future.

A letter from the Janesville Park association thanking the council for a contribution of $500 for the promotion of junior club work was read.

Nine residents of the Chatham street neighborhood between Pleasant and Bluff street.

PUBLIC WARNED OF WHOOPING COUGH

Report and Isolate Cases Promptly to Save Children, Welch's Plan.

A warning to the public and a plea for prompt reporting of suspicious cases was made today by Dr. Fred B. Welch, city health officer, in a drive for better control of whooping cough. Mortality, especially in children under two years, is extremely high. Dr. Welch declared, adding that it is an important cause of broncho-pneumonia. This statement follows:

"Whooping cough is a very difficult disease to control. It is more infectious before the 'whoop' develops than after the 'whoop' becomes a symptom. It often is impossible to determine whether the disease is whooping cough, a severe cold or bronchitis during the first few weeks.

"Control of this disease depends entirely upon the honesty of the people. If these children 'with the cough' are not isolated until a diagnosis can be made, the spread of this disease cannot be prevented.

"It is an air-borne disease, spread by droplet spray from the nose and throat of the infected child. Every case comes directly from a preceding case, by direct exposure. Some chil-den with whooping cough never develop the characteristic 'whoop.'

"The mortality from this disease is extremely high in children under two years of age, and it is an important cause of broncho-pneumonia.

"Every child with a persistent cough should be isolated—not only for the protection of the public, but for its own protection. It matters not whether it is a common cold, bronchitis or whooping cough. All are infectious and, if not given the proper care, can develop into pneumonia.

"Until the public can be made to realize that all respiratory diseases are infectious diseases, little progress can be made in their control. The mortality from these diseases stands at the top of the list of reportable cases.

FARMERS IN COURT TO REROUTE ROAD

Footville Men Ask Highway 20
Laid Condemnation, Be Quashed.

Vacation of the injunction and quashing of the application for condemnation of the land sought for the highway 20 now being constructed with concrete, is asked by James Murphy and other footville farmers near Footville, in a motion made Monday before Judge Grimm by their attorneys, E. J. Ryan and L. J. Avery, of Janesville.

Judge Grimm, in vacating the injunction now in effect, restraining the farmers from commencing trespass proceedings against the highway 20, which has been laid on the grounds that no condemnation has been filed in the register of deeds office, as it is claimed is required by statute.

The court, coming as a surprise to District Attorney S. G. Junnwidde, who was not prepared to argue the legal matter, was continued until next Monday at 2 p. m. Attorney Avery argued the statute requires, and the supreme court has upheld, that in such a matter affecting the title to land, a notice of condemnation must be filed with the register of deeds, before or at the time condemnation is started.

If the court should sustain the attorneys in their contention, the road would have no alternative but to start proceedings all over again, should it feel that condemnation of the land is necessary to complete the highway.

The present plans run through the property of Murphy and Mulachy.

Flames Damage Batting Mills

Damage expected to reach several hundred dollars was done by fire to the interior, stock and machinery on the first floor of the Janesville batting mill, 205 S. Main street, shortly after noon, Tuesday.

Employees had left for lunch a few minutes before.

Debris clouds of smoke from burning battens hampered firemen several minutes before the blaze was brought under control. The fire is believed to have been ignited by friction from a belt on a machine that gathers cotton batting into rolls.

The alarm brought out the entire fire department and saw its first run, though it was not used.

A similar fire some time ago did $300 damage.

FIRST AIR MAIL LETTER ARRIVES

Receipt here of the first letter by air mail, was one postmarked San Francisco, addressed to Robert M. Bostwick. The letter arrived 36 hours after being posted on the west coast, coming from a San Francisco mail train. This is two and one-half days quicker than the time required by rail.

There has been small demand so far for air-mail stamps here, but the advantage of their use for quicker service is expected to increase sales as soon as citizens become more familiar with the system.

Letters may be sent to either coast at the rate of 16 cents per ounce, or to any city in the central part of the country for 12 cents per ounce.

Letters may also be sent by the same means, but at a uniform rate of postage with letters, 8 cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce for each of the three zones into which the country is divided.

URGES FACTORY AND FARM WORK TOGETHER

Interdependent relations of agriculture and industry in Wisconsin were stressed by Carl Johnson, Madison, president of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, who spoke at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club, Tuesday noon.

Reasons for a better understanding between manufacturer and farmer, who are largely dependent upon each other, were given. To establish this relationship is one of the principal reasons for the existence of the association, which he is president, Mr. Johnson said.

The aims of the Manufacturers' association were outlined, and Rotarians were urged to help in carrying out its program.

RURAL CHURCH IS HELD PROMISING

Just Finding Field of Endeavor, or, Opinion of Many Leaders at Meet.

Madison.—The rural church is just finding its field of endeavor and its objective; it is one of the most promising fields of future church activities. These were the opinions expressed by leaders of the national rural church conference here today.

The Rev. P. W. Jones, Raymond, Miss., declared the future offers large opportunity for the rural church in showing the farmer his duties and possibilities, and encouraging him to remain on the soil in the face of difficulties.

Urges Larger Districts
Theodore MacCallin, of the University of Wisconsin, declared there is need for a study of business, production, living and other agricultural matters from the human relationship side.

"Cooperative marketing," Prof. MacCallin said, "enables the farmer to apply modern principles and practice of business, protects him and the consumer, creates cooperation through trade goods and brings to the farmer its highest efficiency and income."

Dr. Charles Lathrop, dean of the social service department, Episcopal church, advocated larger church districts and more inviting financial return for church workers.

Modern education has devoted itself to training boys and girls for "white collar jobs," the Rev. W. P. McDermott, Catholic leader, told the conference.

He urged an expansion of country fairs and similar exhibitions, as well as the schools, to instruct young people in farm fundamentals and advantages.

Fire Department
Organizing a fire department is one of the most novel systems of creating church interest, brought out by the Rev. E. S. Ford, Sparla, N. Y.

"Serve the community," the community will come to church without urging," was the slogan. So he organized a fire department and acted as fire chief. He declared he convinced the people of his country, that they wanted to protect their homes. The result is a $5,000 fire apparatus, which is being paid for by community entertainments and voluntary contributions.

Studying Plans for Memorial

Study of ways and means of providing a permanent home for the patriotic organizations of Janesville in the form of a memorial building is now being made jointly by the citizens committee and a committee composed of members of each of the patriotic bodies. Investigation is being made of a state law which permits cities to add 5 mills per dollar to the taxes over a period of five years, proceeds to be used for World War veterans. If such a plan is adopted, it would mean $33,000 a year in Janesville. It is understood the council has the power to levy such a tax.

While the patriotic organizations are now being housed on the second floor of the city hall, it is said they feel a building which they could call their own would be more suitable.

One of the ideas being considered is to ask all organizations that have funds for patriotic purposes, or who contemplate such, to turn that money into a memorial building fund.
